

Sociology students: submit your hard work!

We create all this great work in our classes,
then set it aside at the end of the semester...

Remember that paper you were really proud of?
Give it new life at S.U.S.A.'s Undergraduate Conference!

The Sociology Undergraduate Students Association's Annual Academic Conference is a unique opportunity to revisit work you would like to share and discuss with other students and faculty, while gaining great experience and even prizes!

Submit a research paper or project which you (in any year or sociology course) have completed and would like to present.

Experience what it's like to present and discuss your work in an academic conference environment.

Share ideas and questions with an audience of fellow students.

Receive feedback and win prizes!
