

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SCIENCE TA DAY

What Should I Know About TAing for a Social Science Course?

Are you a first time TA in the Department of Social Science? Are you TAing a 9-credit foundations course? How are these different? What are the basic things you should know about running a tutorial? Where can you turn for help? Meet your fellow TAs, find out about the kinds of workshops we run in the Department and the teaching certification programs offered by the Teaching Commons. Whether you are a first time TA or not, join us:

12:30-2:30 Wednesday September 4, S710 Ross.

Speakers will include:

Uwa Idemudia, Chair, Department of Social Science

Paul Baxter, Undergraduate Program Director, Department of Social Science

Natasha May, Educational Developer, Teaching Commons

John Simoulidis, Foundations Coordinator, Department of Social Science

NEW first time Foundations TAs attending this session will be paid for two hours compensation at the CUPE overload rate and will be paid up to an additional 5 hrs maximum (7 hrs total) for attending approved workshops. Refreshments will be served!
