

THE HARRIET
TUBMAN INSTITUTE
FOR RESEARCH ON AFRICA AND ITS DIASPORAS

TUBMAN TALK SERIES

The Politics, Economics & Social Justice Cluster Presents:

Alajo Shomolu: Money, Credit, and Banking the Nigerian Ajo Way

Salewa Olawoye

Salewa is an Assistant Professor in the Business and Society Program of the Department of Social Science at York University. She has a PhD in Economics and Social Science Consortium (University of Missouri – Kansas City, 2016). Her research focuses on heterodox approaches to sustainable economic development through natural resources, and monetary theory. She co-edited the book “Monetary Policy and Central Banking: New Directions in Post-Keynesian Theory” (2012).

Join us via zoom conference Thursday,
October 1st, 2020 2:30PM-4PM

Join Zoom Meeting:

<https://yorku.zoom.us/j/96492792328?pwd=bXdGdk9pQkRCb1F2ZkN2bSsvZkpMUT09>

Meeting ID: 964 9279 2328 Passcode: 078764